Children of the Amazon

Arts in Education Assembly for Grades K-8

Through slides and poetry, students take an 'assembly field trip' to an Ecuadorian Amazon village and learn about the rain forest from their 'hosts,' children who live there. Along the way, students encounter an array of amazing animals and plants, and hear traditional music, Amazon children singing songs in Spanish and Kichwa, and rain forest sounds. Presenter Paul Hurteau, who lived and taught in the Amazon for one year and has traveled there ten times over the past 15 years, concludes the assembly with an Amazon crafts demonstration and a Q & A session. Follow-up classroom workshops are available.

Since 1992, OneWorld Classrooms' Paul Hurteau has visited over 1,200 K-8 classrooms in NY, PA, CT and VA to conduct curriculum-based Arts in Education programs integrating global exploration, photography, poetry, storytelling, music and visual arts. With OneWorld Classrooms recent relocation to the Boston area, Paul's programs are now available in eastern Massachusetts! Paul has lived, traveled and taught in the Amazon Rain Forest, Africa, the Canadian Arctic, China, Tibet and the Galapagos Islands. Through his programs, he travels the world with your students, right from the comfort of your own school!

OneWorld Classrooms also offers Poetry Safari assemblies, workshops and residencies; storytelling programs; and The Song of the Harpy Eagle, a rain forest residency culminating in a musical performance featuring students.
