OneWorld Classrooms is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that builds bridges of learning and understanding between US and global K-12 classrooms in the context of the curriculum. We provide innovative arts and technology-based programs and services that give students opportunities to 1) share, collaborate and explore with their global peers; and 2) gain the skills, knowledge and cultural awareness they need to improve their academic achievement and be active global citizens. Since 2009, we have involved over 20,000 students from 54 countries.

Programs and Services

- K-12 Global Art Exchange
  Exchange student artwork and communicate with K-12 classrooms around the globe!

- Student to Student Language Lab
  Learn a foreign language directly from students who speak it as a first language!

- Boston 140
  A 120-piece exhibition of student art from 38 countries and related Arts in Education residencies and professional development workshops.

“OneWorld Classrooms has changed the way I teach: it has enabled me to teach aspects of world cultures that can’t be seen with a text book and has enabled my students to travel the world without leaving our classroom. My students have opened their ‘cultural eyes’ and developed deeper understandings of world cultures.” — 3rd Grade Teacher
